PRACTICE LIMITED TO ARBITRATION AND MEDIATION

Keith D. Greenberg is an arbitrator and mediator of private, public, and federal sector labor and employment disputes. He is a member of a number of labor arbitration panels and rosters, including those maintained by the American Arbitration Association, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the National Mediation Board, the Pennsylvania Bureau of Mediation, the New Jersey State Board of Mediation, and the Public Employees Relations Board of the U.S. Virgin Islands, as well as the rosters of labor arbitrators and hearing examiners maintained by the District of Columbia Public Employee Relations Board. He also serves on several permanent labor arbitration panels, including in the federal and public sectors. Mr. Greenberg has served as a neutral in grievance (rights) and interest disputes, and has also served as an impartial hearing examiner under the internal EEO program of a federal agency.

Mr. Greenberg is an experienced mediator, serving as a member of the American Arbitration Association's Panel of Labor Mediators and the rosters of employment mediators for the United States Office of Compliance; the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's RESOLVE internal ADR program; the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission Early ADR Mediation Panel; the Cornell University Roster of Dispute Resolution Neutrals, Scheinman Institute on Conflict Resolution, Cornell University ILR School; and the rosters of court-approved mediators for labor and employment cases in the Circuit Courts for Baltimore, Montgomery, and Howard Counties, Maryland. He is a member of the Maryland Program for Mediator Excellence.

Mr. Greenberg serves as Co-Chair of the District of Columbia Bar's Labor and Employment Law Section, and was elected to the Section's steering committee in 2015 and again in 2016. In addition, he serves as Neutral Co-Chair of the Webinar Committee of the American Bar Association's Section of Labor and Employment Law and was selected for the Section's 2014 Leadership Development Program. He is a Co-Chair of the Employment ADR Committee of the American Bar Association's Section of Dispute Resolution. In 2016, he was elected Vice President for the D.C. Chapter of the Society of Federal Labor and Employee Relations Professionals (SFLERP). He serves as a member of the Board of Advisors for the Maryland Chapter of LERA. Mr. Greenberg is an active member of the National Association of Railroad Referees, the Maryland and Philadelphia Chapters of the Labor and Employment Relations Association, and the Cornell ILR Alumni Association. He is a member of the Cuban American Bar Association and is fluent in Spanish.

Mr. Greenberg has spoken and presented on numerous topics, including attorney fees in federal sector labor arbitration, the intersection of arbitrator disclosure and social media, current developments in labor and employment arbitration, advanced topics related to the Family and Medical Leave Act, workplace gaming, issues in private sector labor relations, and advocate preparation for labor arbitration hearings. He is a contributor to a number of publications produced by Bloomberg BNA and the ABA's Section of Labor and Employment Law, and writes frequently on labor and employment topics as well as issues related to alternative dispute resolution. Mr. Greenberg co-taught a seminar on labor and employment arbitration and mediation in the fall of 2013 at the George Washington University Law School, and has served as a guest lecturer in courses on labor relations.

Mr. Greenberg spent several years in practice as an attorney in New York City in the labor and employment practice group of Duane Morris LLP prior to establishing his practice as a full-time neutral in the Washington, D.C. area in 2012. He is a graduate of the Cornell University School of Industrial and Labor Relations and of the University of Michigan Law School. Since 2012, he has also been associated with the practice of Ira F. Jaffe, Esq., Impartial Arbitrator-Mediator.
